Democrats Slate First Black Candidate for State Judgeship

Gary lawyer in contention for judgeship

Gary attorney Frederick T. Work Friday became the first Indiana Negro named to run for a statewide office when he was nominated as the Democratic candidate for the judge of the Indiana Appellate Court from the Second District.

Work's nomination came during the fiery Democratic State Convention which saw Lieut. Gov. Robert L. Rock beat out former House speaker Richard C. Bodine for the gubernatorial nomination.

Bodine, with the endorsement of the majority of the big-city political bosses, had been predicted to snatch the nomination from Rock. James Beatty, Marion County and 11th District Democratic chairman, won nomination as lieutenant governor, but failed to deliver the total vote of the huge Marion County delegation for Bodine.

Political insiders credit rank-and-file dissatisfaction with Democratic State Chairman Gordon St. Angelo, a top Bodine backer, for his defeat by a two-vote margin.

St. Angelo had all his forces—plus Gov. Roger Branigin and most other Democratic office holders—behind Bodine in his campaign to clobber Rock.

Now Rock is in a position to press for St. Angelo's replacement by a chairman of his own choice.

At a news conference following his nomination, Rock told reporters he doesn't want St. Angelo to run his fall campaign against Edgar Whitcomb, the GOP nominee.

Work was nominated without opposition to one of two posts of appellate court judge, second district, on the eight-member tribunal.

The youthful nominee has been active in Gary politics since beginning his legal practice in 1960. He was instrumental in the successful mayoralty campaign of Gary.

The rise and fall of a city - Resurrection

BY WILLIAM H. CLARK

In a nation where the only negotiable commodity is power and in a city which is the site of power, another city was born about six weeks ago. This city was made up of people seeking power. This city was not the result of land planners or urban renewal. It was the result of human dream that this country was the land of opportunity for all Americans without regard to race, religion, or economic status. All cities have names. This city was known as Resurrection City.

Its name was symbolic of the hopes of an oppressed people being resurrected. All cities have a mixed variety of people that make up its populace; the unique factor about Resurrection is that it too had a mixed variety of people, but its citizens had two outstanding things in common: they were poor and they wanted to see poverty eliminated.

The people who came to Resurrection City were poor blacks, poor whites, Puerto Ricans, Mexican-Americans,

Hollywood film to depict life of Martin Luther King

HOLLYWOOD — Several top stars, executives and producers announced last week the formation of a new nonprofit corporation to produce films dealing with racial relationships, poverty and other contemporary social issues.

The first film, a semi-documentary, will center on the life, work and death of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Production is tentatively scheduled to begin in August.

Producer-director Robert Wise and producer-actor Tom Laughlin presided jointly over a press conference, in which they were joined by Jack Lemmon, Jean Simmons, Elizabeth James (who was featured in Laughlin's recent film "Born Losers"), Candice Bergen and Marlon Brando.

Wise and Laughlin are on a board of trustees for the as yet unnamed corporation.

Other board members include Lemmon, Paul Newman, Sidney Poitier, Harry Belafonte, Mrs. Martin Luther King Jr. and Dr. Ralph Abernathy. Proceeds from the first film will go to the late Dr. King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC).

Wise made it clear that he and all the other creative talents would donate their service to the films undertaken by the corporation, and said he hoped that other craftsmen would work for minimum salaries.

He indicated that future film ventures might, for example, consider the problems of the American Indian and might, in fact, not necessarily be content

Brown ousted as SNCC strives for 'new image'

NEWARK, N.J.—Until the name H. Rap Brown became synonymous with the segment of black militancy advocating violence, the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) was considered a civil rights group that utilized "direct action" but peacefully.

Apparently, SNCC wants this image restored. One of the quickest ways of achieving this would be to oust the controversial, fiery and now convicted Brown as chairman. This, according to reliable sources, has been done.

Elected to succeed Brown was a soft-spoken, black organizer named Phillip Hutchins. Unlike his predecessor, he will hold the title of "program coordinator" and not "chairman." The new leader was reportedly named during a closed meeting recently at SNCC's headquarters in Atlanta.

Like Brown and his comrade of violence, Stokely Carmichael, Hutchins attended Howard University and, in fact, was a classmate of the duo. But while Brown, after his selection as SNCC chairman in 1967, and Carmichael have steadily called for an American bloodbath, Hutchins, 26, has steadfastly clung to the ideals of "grass root" action.

Freedom Week to mark purchasing of homes

"Freedom Week" will take place Saturday, July 6, when the Committee on Special Housing will hold its third open house for families dislocated as a result of government action.

The affair will be held from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Federal Housing Administration (FHA), 333 N. Pennsylvania. Although the committee has not projected integration as its purpose in selling the homes to buyers, such a situation has come about since homes in previously all-white neighborhoods have been purchased by black citizens.

A dislocated person is one who has to re-locate because of highway or park construction or code enforcement, or people living in crowded conditions.

The committee has available for people who have never bought homes before nearly 70 pieces of property located throughout Marion County.

The property is owned by the Federal Housing Administration and can be purchased for as little as $300 or $400 down and maintained on mortgage payments of $80 to $100 a month.

On the whole the property is relatively new. Most of the homes have five rooms including three bedrooms. They are priced generally in the area of $12,000, although it should be noted properties are available for as little as $9,000 and as much as $18,000.

The committee has found that most of the people coming to it are about 30 years old, married, and have two or three children in grade schools. These young families generally earn no more than $6,000 a year and have never purchased a home before. They have been

Ban on bias in G.I. housing is nationwide

WASHINGTON—Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford said last week he was extending to all parts of the nation the Pentagon's rule that service men may not rent lodgings from owners who practice racial discrimination.

He announced that after July 31 no member of the armed forces would be "authorized to enter into a new lease or rental arrangement at an apartment or trailer court near his base if the owner follows a discriminatory policy in leasing to servicemen."

He made it plain he was basing his move on the new civil rights law making housing discrimination against any serviceman and to end it promptly.

In a parallel action, Mr. Clifford said he was ordering the establishment of procedures "act quickly as possible to make legal advice available to any serviceman who experiences housing discrimination."

"This help will include counseling him, if he so wishes, on his right to bring a lawsuit against a discriminatory landlord."

Black police said he heard plans of assassination plot

The legal question of "entrapment" popped up late this week in the case of four young black men accused of allegedly plotting to assassinate Police Chief Winston L. Churchill and Narcotics Bureau head Lt. Richard A. Jones.

According to reliable sources, a black rookie policeman working undercover infiltrated the group, gained their confidence, and then aided them in mapping plans to steal arms and ammunition and even went so far as to allegedly supply a get-away car and burglary tools.

Three of the men were arrested Sunday night by police and FBI agents after they had broken into the Marine Corps Reserve Training Center, 2830 E. Riverside, where they were allegedly attempting to steal thinking about killing. "Shabazz has been accused of having rifle practice on the rifle range in Lockfield. Why do they need more guns to carry out assassination? They have gone out of their way to trap Shabazz. What they are after is his name. Omar Shabazz is not the leader of any large number of people and there is no such organization as the 'Black Panthers' here."

arms and ammunition. They were identified as Eldridge (Omar Shabazz) Morrison Jr., 23; Melvin A. Johnson, 25, 1228 W. 29th, and Leon Andrew Gomilla, 18, 649 Bright.

Another man identified with the conspiracy and being held is Odell Jones, 24, 1409 W. 29th. He was arrested Monday on information given authorities by the policeman, identified as Allen Ray Watkins.

Meanwhile the feeling in the black community is that the men were encouraged into the crime by Watkins and that it is the plan of the police to trap local black power advocates.

Charles "Snooky" Hendricks, chairman of the Radical Action Project, made the following statement on the case:

"They took a brother with no organization behind him and put him out to mingle with other black brothers. He is one pure-bred Uncle Tom. We know Shabazz wasn't

Rites held Friday for Atty. H. Perry Smith

Funeral services were to be held Friday at the Flanner & Buchanan Fall Creek Mortuary for Atty. H. Perry Smith, 74, 3907 Guilford, who died Tuesday in a Hume Mansur Building physicians office. Interment will be in Crown Hill Cemetery.

Smith, a familiar figure around the City-County Building, was well known for his flamboyant attire. His taste in clothing leaned toward bright colors and he often was the subject of good-natured kidding from fellow barristers for his colorful wardrobe.

A native of Orange County, California, Smith had practiced law in Indiana since 1951. He was a member of the Elks Lodge No. 104.

During a law career spanning more than 48 years, he had

History text to be dropped at Shortridge

Widely assailed by some exemplary scholars and students of world history, anthropology and archaeology as a work portraying "outmoded ethnocentric bias," an ancient history textbook has been dropped from the main history course at Shortridge High School.

This is in keeping with reports emanating from the school early this week. The book again assailed in many areas of liberal opinion or among liberal students is "Ancient Times, a History of the Early World."

The author, the late James H. Breasted, was formerly director of the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago. In recent times students on the campuses of several universities and colleges have condemned his (Breasted's) writings.

Rangers accused of extortion, fund misuse during Senate probe

WASHINGTON—The Blackstone Rangers gang, it seems, can't win for losing.

Despite their efforts to "go respectable" gang members have been accused of misusing federal anti-poverty funds. One member has been accused of murder while another has been convicted on three counts of solicitation for murder.

Charges of questionable activities counteract the Rangers' up-and-up image presented by "Opportunity Please Knock" entertainment performances on television and on the stage. The Rangers gained nationwide attention when they were accused of taking part in violent acts, even though the gang was among the beneficiaries of a grant from the U.S. Office of Economic Opportunities.

The Senate permanent subcommittee on investigations inquired into reports that the OEO approved a Community Action Program grant as a payoff to end gang violence on Chicago's Southside.

It was charged at the hearing that the Rangers committed extortion against area firms, with the apparent approval of their "advisor" the Rev. John Fry, a white Southside minister.

George (Watusi) Rose, 23, former Ranger warlord, told Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) that Rev. Fry's First Presbyterian Church of Chicago was used by the gang for pot parties and for storage of weapons.

Some $1 million in federal anti-poverty funds were said to have been misused.

In shocking testimony last Friday before the committee, "Watusi" said that Rev. Fry

Brown ousted

Typical of his work was his fight against plans to locate New Jersey's state medical college on 150 acres in the heart of Newark's Negro section. He was instrumental in the drive that got the site cut back to 58 acres, with guarantees that no Negroes would be displaced until housing was available to relocate them.

His duties in Newark began three years ago. Prior to then, he was a SNCC field worker in Georgia and Tennessee.

Brown is currently appealing a Louisiana court conviction on a federal rap of transporting firearms across a state line. He has been sentenced to five years imprisonment and did not seek re-election as SNCC's head.

Test proves need for early school integration

CHARLOTTE, N. C. — An unusual experiment has given living proof of an often voiced theory: school life plays a major role in developing a child's attitude on the race issue.

A proponent of the theory and school integration, Dr. Louis Diamant is undoubtedly pleased with the results of a unique experiment involving 60 children attending private kindergarten in lower, middle and upper-middle income neighborhoods of Charlotte, North Carolina has no public kindergartens.

The chairman of the psychology department at the University of North Carolina's Charlotte campus set out to prove that regardless of what a child is taught about race differences at home he can learn to accept integration as a fact of life if trained early enough in school.

In his study, he used black and white dolls. He separated the toys into family groups using dark dolls for the parents with white dolls as infants and vice versa.

According to him, the children, whose IQs ranged from 92 to 140, accepted the bi-racial "families" almost immediately without attempts to spurn the dark dolls. This, to him, is a good argument for school integration at lower levels.

He was also careful to note IQ differences was insignificant in treatment of the dolls.

"It appears that no matter what the child hears at home, if he gets into an integrated school soon enough, he may still be able to develop relatively free of prejudice," Diamant said in an interview.

He says racial prejudice "stunts a child's development because it requires constant emotional effort to justify attitudes that basically go against nature."

The psychologist was aware of the fact many of the children were from "prejudiced homes" because he polled parents prior to his experiment. This caused many constituents to predict rejection of the black dolls.

Councils approves CAAP as anti-poverty agency

All anti-poverty programs in Marion County will continue in charge of Community Action Against Poverty Inc. until July 1, 1969 following approval on Monday of this week by the county and city councils in a resolution of the CAAP in this capacity.

Leaders of the CAAP have noted that such an official designation was needed in order for the agency (CAAP) to continue receiving federal funds from the Regional Office, Chicago, of the Office of Economic Opportunity.

William K. Byrum, County Councilman, amended the original resolution, an open-ended one, to grant recognition of the resolution only to July 1, 1969. His amendment also calls for a review of CAAP by the two councils on or about Jan. 30, 1969.

Following amendment, the resolution was passed by a 3-0 vote of the county council and concurred in by a vote of 6-0 by the city council.

Official designation of the CAAP in keeping with OEO requirements apparently did not constitute full endorsement of the record of the CAAP or its membership board.

Dr. John T. Liell, acting executive director of the CAAP, observed that the Chicago OEO had demanded that the present Human Resources Development program be ended by August 17. But he has been assured that approximately $62,000 will be spent on a comparable program for the remainder of the year.

Seemingly, such funds will be used to operate three multipurpose neighborhood centers in "pockets of poverty" outside the city. He also assured the councilmen there would be an anti-poverty program in the city, or area outside Center Township.

Both Thomas C. Hhasbrook, city council president and Bert R. Servaas, president of the county said their council members were largely "in the dark" about CAAP affairs, a matter of marked concern on their part.

However, Mrs. Gordon D. McCalment, CAAP board president, promised to try to keep them better informed. Otherwise, they promised to make arrangements to have their own representatives on the CAAP board.

and the poorest of all—the American Indian. They came to Resurrection City to apply pressure on Congress to pass legislation which would meaningfully aid the poor.

They came to demand that the department of government which administer programs for the poor to revise and overhaul them, and they came that they might be seen; that the story of the poor might be told that in this nation of plenty there are millions who are being denied the opportunity to live a decent life.

To further dramatize the Poor Peoples Campaign a Solidarity March was held on last Wednesday, May 19, on the outskirts of Resurrection City. Although there was some doubt as to whether there was going to be a march, there was a march. The Washington police said 50,000 people participated; other sources estimated 100,000.

There has been a tendency to compare the Solidarity Day March of June 1968 with the Civil Rights March of 1963. Other than the fact that some of the same people participated in both marches, there is no comparison.

The March of 1963 was for the passage of Civil Rights legislation. The March of 1968 was to dramatize the need to bring an end to the impersonal social forces that create poverty. Many who went to Washington in 1963 stayed home in 1968. And those that stayed home were middle class blacks and middle class whites who do not identify with the plight of the poor.

There was a program of entertainment and a program of speeches—a long program of speeches and some long speeches. Of the speeches, it is not so much who spoke, but who did not speak or get their speeches reported in the mass media.

Father James Groppi of Milwaukee, Wis., who had been with the campaign since its beginning was not allowed to speak. The leadership of the campaign told that Groppi was too militant in his stands for the poor. This is the apex of hypocrisy. Floyd McKissick was not on program, perhaps because he is an advocate of Black Power. But there were the other familiar faces of old like Roy Wilkins of the NAACP, Whitney Young of the Urban League, and Walter Reuther of the UAW. It has the organizations are totally and completely out of touch with the aspirations of the poor. A look at the NAACP convention now being held in Atlantic City is adequate testimony.

The best speeches were made by individuals who represented the Indians, Mexican-Americans, poor whites, Puerto Ricans, and the National Welfare Rights Organization. Their speeches were frank, candid, and honest, and they had their "thing together". But the content of their speeches did not get reported in the press.

It has a "successful" day, but there are some people who have second thoughts about massive outpourings of support. They went to Washington in 1963, Selma, Birmingham, Atlanta, and back to Washington again. A program is needed to capture the spirit that causes an individual to leave his town and go to another city to protest or express sympathy, but he can not be motivated to express that same type of response on the local level.

As the week came to a close, the permit that allowed the residents of Resurrection City to be in town expired. Without any formal warning, the D.C. policemen emptied canister after canister of tear gas in the city driving the residents into the wind. Mayor Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, his official cabinet, and many of his citizens were arrested, fined and sentenced. The dwellings where there once was a city have been destroyed and the land is barren again.

But that is not the end of the story. The Poor Peoples Campaign goes on. Earlier this week the House of Agriculture Committee voted to increase the appropriation for food stamps to $245 million. The Office of Economic Opportunity located an unspent $25 million for the poor. The Justice Department has increased its efforts to desegregate schools in northern urban areas. The Supreme Court struck down the regulation which punishes children because their mother has a man in the house. Further, steps are being taken to establish an Embassy of the Poor which will be the official lobby of poor people. The campaign is not over; it has just started.

At a news conference, the Defense Secretary said the ban would not apply to single family dwellings.

fined to problems or audiences in the United States.

Financing, Wise said, would not be sought initially from traditional film sources but from major U.S. corporations and foundations eager to bring the power and resources of motion pictures to bear on areas of grave social concern, including the difficulties of all racial and linguistic minorities.

Other personalities who have pledged support and active participation include Dan Blocker, Katharine Ross, Nancy Sina Tra and Raquel Welch. All of them plus Belafonte, Miss Bergen, Brando, Newman, Lemmon and Pottier will participate in the initial production.

Evidently, they will be photographed talking with persons intimately associated with Dr. King's career or involved in various groups concerned positively or negatively with the racial question.

Wise said Lou Wasserman had pledged the full support of Universal Studio to the project.

Distribution of the films will be arranged through regular trade channels, very likely on a cooperative basis involving several distributing companies to give the film the widest possible display.

ings as an "aberrational doctrine of dissolution."

Following such a trend of opinions or activities, late in the month of April, a group of students burned a copy of Mr. Breasted's book, noted herein, when a rally was held in front of Shortridge.

Thomas A. Payne of the schools history department is reported as observing that the controversial textbook will remain a reference because of outstanding chapters on portions of history in Greek and Roman times.

This week rumors come to The Recorder that some groups in the Negro community plan an all-out crusade against the book, or Mr. Breasted's works as an aberrational doctrine abating sodality or common fellowship.

had encouraged the gang to extort merchants, permitted marijuana smoking in the church, relayed an order to the gang to murder a dope peddler and allowed the Rangers to hide their guns from police in the church. Police say they confiscated a "small arsenal" during a raid at the church.

In stiff denial statements Monday, Rev. Fry said guns were stored in the church safe under an arrangement with Chicago police and the United States Treasury Department. It was all part of a co-operative plan to "disarm" the gang. However, police later broke the "truce" with an unannounced raid.

The minister said he was completely unaware that Rangers extorted money from students for safe passage to school. Answering charges of funds misuse, he said his "ghetto operations" were made possible by a $38,000 grant from the Presbytery of Chicago and a $50,000 outlay from philanthropist Charles Kettering of Denver.

It is interesting to note the Rangers' Southside area was one of the communities which did not go up in smoke during the rioting which followed the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Even if the Rangers had kept peace in their Woodlawn area for a price, they could hardly have been accused of taking part in riots, such as those which engulfed the city's Westside.

But regardless of what the gang may do right, some members continue to be linked to violent crimes.

July 22 is the date set for the trial of Dennis Jackson, identified as a 14-year-old member of the gang, who is accused in the fatal shooting of one man and the wounding of two others.

Leo McClure, 33, was slain and the others were shot in a parked car in the Rangers' Southside "turf."

Sentencing of Eugene "Bull"

Hairston, 24, a leading member of the Blackstone Rangers gang linked to the shootings, will take place July 18. Hairston has been convicted on three counts of solicitation for murder, while Jackson was fingered as the trigger man in McClure's slaying.

During the Hairston trial, Sander Martin, 14, testified that Hairston had told him to "hit" the victim's car several hours before the shooting.

'Entrapment'

"If they wanted to kill Dick Jones or Churchill, they would not have to steal guns; maybe breaking in is wrong, but this guy (Watkins) took them there in his car and suggested how it should be done."

Hendricks wrapped up his feelings on the case, adding, "The black community frowns on him (Watkins)."

The four men appeared before United States Commissioner Robert W. Geddes Wednesday and were ordered held for the Federal Grand Jury under bonds totaling $70,000 each. The case against Jones was continued until July 5.

Jones' court-appointed attorney, Milton Sigel, said a definite case of entrapment did exist and from the information he had gathered, Watkins actually aided and encouraged the men in the burglary.

In testimony before Commissioner Geddes, Watkins, who graduated from a rookie class in April, said the group called themselves the "Black Panthers," although local individuals identified with the militant end of the Black Power movement denied that such an organization exists.

Watkins, a former middle-weight boxer and athlete at the old Evansville Lincoln High School, said he had infiltrated the alleged gang in early April and maintained their company during the daylight hours while working at Geeral Hospital at night.

The officer said he was with the gang on June 8 when they planned to burglarize the Marine Center. He said he stayed in constant touch with local authorities as well as the FBI.

He also testified that on the night of the burglary, he picked up Morrison, Johnson and Gomilia and drove them to the center. He further stated that Gomilia stayed with the car as a lookout while he and the others entered the building.

Watkins said some of the arms were to be sold and others were to be used.

He said he had been with the gang several times during "target practice" in a wooded area near Rockville and in Lockfield, but no weapons have been reported recovered. Watkins also said he had sat in on plans to assassinate the two policemen.

Jones and Watkins reportedly had worked together at Bryant Heating and Manufacturing Company at one time.

Watkins said there were about 15 gang members and police are reportedly searching for others on a charge of conspiracy.

Within the next few weeks seven more Negro families will be moving into all white neighborhoods, two Negro families into integrated neighborhoods, and eight Negro families into all-Negro neighborhoods.

High court ruling seen as cops' harassment rights

WASHINGTON - Both national and local civil rights advocates viewed with skepticism a controversial Supreme Court decision handed down last week granting police what was termed unquestionable "harassment rights."

The decision, seen as a boon for local law enforcement agents if properly manipulated, in effect grants policemen the right to search any suspicious person for weapons.

After the 8-1 vote, Chief Justice Earl Warren and constituents in a carefully-worded explanation made it clear that police are not to over-ride or abuse the newly-granted authority. But civil rights leaders view the decision as flexible as far as police are concerned and fear some will utilize it to the extent of unwarranted harassment and brutality.

Warren stated: "The officer need not be absolutely certain that the individual is armed. The issue is whether a reasonably prudent man in the circumstances would be warranted in the belief that his safety or that of others was in danger."

He added that subjects are to be searched only in circumstances where the safety of the officers or others are feared.

Justice William O. Douglas, the lone dissenter, said the step the court had taken might be desirable to cope with "modern forms of lawlessness," but to give the police greater power than a magistrate is to take a long step down the totalitarian path.

Douglas was absent from court, convalescing from surgery at Walter Reed Army Hospital. A spokesman there said an electronic heart pacemaker was implanted in his chest on June 4 to correct a slow pulse rate.

Rocky is only GOP hopeful able to draw Negro vote

Nelson A. Rockefeller is a serious candidate for the Republican nomination for the presidency. Whether his party will have the wisdom to select him, a potential winner, over front-running Richard Nixon, a potential loser, remains to be seen.

It all depends on whether or not the professional politicians who will make the decision in Miami are willing to face reality. That reality is right policy, or one who even smells of it, can win the White House in November.

Rocky smells of it. And the Negro voters of America have super-sensitive noses for smelling out sweetening-water liberals and double-talking moderates. In addition, they have just about arrived at political maturity, and with that maturity a realization that they have it in their power to decide the occupancy of the White House for the next four years!

Many Republicans have long ago given up hope that Negro voters will ever be wooed back in the GOP fold. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Republican National Chairman Ray Bliss are not among them. Both men believe, and rightfully so, that Negro voters will forget partisanship when the candidate is able to establish the proper empathy with Negro aspirations.

Rockefeller has that empathy and his election as governor of the nation's second most populous state, soundly demonstrated it. His conduct in the governor's chair has considerably heightened it.

Now, if the series of newspaper advertisements appearing nationwide over the Rockefeller signature are a barometer, Rocky intends to make it known to the world that he considers America's worsening racial tensions the most critical problem—even above the fiasco in Viet Nam.

His pledge to devote himself to building "a brand new neighborhood with changed people who are friendly to others no matter what color" is the kind of straight talk Negro voters can respond to.

Of course, his sort of straight talk may well cost him the nomination and Rocky must be well aware of this possibility.

That is why, even this early in the game, we feel the impulse to say . . . "Go Rocky, go!"

Big business finally involves itself

A sequel to socio-economic upheavals reflected in eruptions of violence in California (Watts area), Detroit, Newark, and elsewhere, big business or its leaders over much of the nation is presently engaged in programs to retard or repress latent social evils engendering the like.

Today, major business, industrial and financial organizations are contributing their time, talent and money to explorations of the causes and effects, again of socio-economic maladies plaguing the mainstream of our much-vaunted way of life.

Among such intensively active organizations or leaders are included: Henry Ford II, Ford Motor Co.; Robert E. Slater, John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co.; George Champion, Chase National Bank, New York; Thomas S. Gates, Morgan Guaranty Trust Co., New York, and Christian A. Herter, Mobil Oil Co.

Others include executives of such firms as International Business Machine Co., the Bell Telephone System, Standard Oil, New Jersey; Prudential Insurance Co., U.S. Steel Corp., Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., Gulf Oil Co., General Motors Co., General Electric Co., and others among their widely hailed contemporaries.

A survey of nearly three-score of the nation's biggest companies indicates that many of these have made a basic commitment to involve time, talent and resources in socio-economic crises plaguing the nation's urban communities. Employment, education, housing and recreation facilities are getting their assistance. Where the giant corporations lead it is now ventured, business and industry otherwise will follow.

Some big organizations have found that they can make major contributions in education. However, the National Alliance of Businessmen appears committed to promoting or finding jobs around the nation for hard-core unemployed, plus summer jobs for ghetto youths. Again the titanic Prudential Insurance Company, along with two or three others in its field, are contributing evolution of better housing programs.

Seemingly, big business over the nation contemplates that it is better to prepare youths of the ghettos for practical contributions in their surroundings, education and training for jobs, than try to deal with them later in antisocial confrontations or evils.

Pondering the plight of gret metropolitan areas over the land, big business, it now appears, is speaking out on public issues and exerting its influence in fostering equal rights for all people in keeping with the law and government policies, or in sustaining the letter and spirit of law and order.

We conclude, in contemplation of the observation: "The health of a people is really the foundation upon which all their powers as a state (nation) depends . . . Yet we are holding to spiritual or ideal stammina posed in humanity or a 'state' and dominant institutions alone can create a nation. We have or possess the like."

The power of the poor

The Solidarity Day March on Washington in support of the Poor People's Campaign was an inspiring event. The huge turnout was impressive, both because it didn't get as much press publicity as it could have received, and because the March was organized in only a few weeks, compared to the 1963 March which was organized over a period of months.

Still, they came—whites and blacks and browns and reds—from all over America to register their support for immediate action to end the poverty which distorts our land.

American poverty is integrated—it shows no respect for color lines. Whites as well as blacks, Mexicans and Puerto Ricans as well as Indians, suffer hunger and want.

But the significance of the Poor People's Campaign lies in the fact that the poor are organizing together for a slice of the American economic pie.

The poor now know they don't have to starve; they don't have to live in shacks; they don't have to be shunted into a dark corner of the American conscience, unseen, unheard, unthought of.

Poverty is not God-given, but man-made. Poverty is created by discrimination and by the blindness of our political and economic leadership. By marching on Washington with their allies, and by organizing together, the poor are showing their strength.

For the poor do have power. They have the power to disrupt the system; the power to destroy our cities; the power to burn houses and fields. The poor have limitless power to deepen the scars of hate and violence.

But the poor have chosen a different kind of power—the power of reason; the power to build; the power to organize together to loosen the bonds of poverty and to turn this nation around.

The poor now realize that in organization and in the exercise of political power, there is strength. If the momentum of the Washington March is kept up, and the poor in all our cities and rural areas organize, they can decide the results of the November election and insure victory for candidates who will fight for their cause.

Some people have objected to yet another demonstration. But when rich corporations want the nation to act in their favor, they spend millions of dollars on lobbyists and advertising specialists. But the poor have only their feet, their bodies, their spirit, and the belief in the righteousness of their cause and the decency of their aims.

I hope the nation will finally listen and act, because this could be the last peaceful March which brings whites and blacks together under the banner of non-violent protest. The prophets of violence are waiting in the wings to take over if the responsible leaders don't get the victories their people need. There have been many marches in the past few years—Washington, Selma, Birmingham, Jackson, and now Washington again. They take place because the poor and the oppressed cry out for change. But too many Americans complacently watch these marches on television, seeing them as just another kind of entertainment spectacle, remaining unmoved and not caring about the plight of their fellow man.

The Georgia mule was a symbol of this March. It is a symbol of the burdens of the rural poor. But it is also a symbol of the silent watchers who stubbornly refuse to change their rigid views. And it is a symbol of the Congress which reflects their indifference, refusing to take the necessary steps to end poverty and discrimination.

This March may have given America its last chance to make good on its promises of equality and dignity for all. I pray it takes it.

USAC head denies segregation charge

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is a letter written in response to a recent column of Andrew Ramsey.

I have read your column this morning regarding racism in connection with the 500 Mile Race. You do yourself and our cause a disservice, in my estimation, when you use falseterminology to describe the lack of participation in the 500 Mile Race.

I can speak only for USAC, but I can assure you there have never been written or unwritten "bars" against any race, color, or creed in USAC. We have had a few Negro licensed mechanics for many years.

No Negro driver, mechanic, car owner, or official has ever been denied membership and no Negro driver, mechanic, car owner, or official has ever been refused a license on the basis of color.

No Negro, to my knowledge, has ever been discouraged from applying and I can assure you that a qualified Negro would be welcomed. Almost every other religion, race and ethnic background has been embraced in USAC and there is no reason to expect the Negro would receive any less of a welcome.

I, frankly, do not know the reasons there are no drivers and few mechanics. They must be historical. The only current reason I can think of is that USAC does not license novice drivers. They must have had experience racing on other circuits before they are eligible for USAC racing. Perhaps they are discouraged from starting a racing career on other circuits. I don't know.

I do know that I speak with knowledge of USAC's policies. Enclosed is a copy of our rule book including the by-laws. Also, enclosed is a year's membership in USAC as a gift from me.

Change of name by NAACP proposed by reader

To The Editor
The Recorder
Dear Sir:

A short time ago The Affector wrote the NAACP, New York office urging them to add to corporate name of the NAACP the word "Education."

The new name then would become the National Assn. for the Education and Advancement of Colored People N.A.E.A.C.P. The powers that be, believe that if Dr. King would have taken this step a year ago, he would still be alive today.

The word "advancement" standing alone, by itself, spells

Reader prefers to be called Afro-American

To The Editor:

I am writing in regards to this word "Negro." I do not accept it personally. I prefer to be called colored or Afro-American.

Most whites mispronounce the word Negro anyway. They pronounce it Nigro. It is Negro. The "N" is emphasized. To this word is an insult to the whole colored race.

Please get wise and wake up and stop using the word Negro in your newspaper. Afro-American or colored is more acceptable.

In which ye author observes the white man trying to avoid the long hot summer

The white racism indicated by the Kerner Report as being at the bottom of the recent racial disorders in America is one of the most easily observed social force operatives in present day America.

It is not at all necessary to investigate the obvious racist organizations like the K.K.K. or the Citizens Councils nor yet the supporters of George Wallace for President.

Any fairly intelligent American or visitor to America can from where he stands collect all the evidence that he needs that racism is indeed the way of life for most white Americans even though most of them would be last to admit it publicly. This racism involves the captains of industry, leaders of government from the local to the national level, education leaders, whether they be school board members, school administrators or classroom teachers, as well as religious professionals and laymen.

Also forming a large block of the racist breed are military men, policemen, physicians, dentists, lawyers, insurance tycoons and insurance agents, postal employees and other civil service operatives.

In fact the most dangerous racists are among the most decent citizens of every community in America. They may be classified as reactionaries, conservatives, moderates and liberals along economic, political or religious lines.

Many of them expect and often receive the plaudits of the black community for their stand on racial integration. Many of them take the lead in pushing for legislation opening up housing, employment or other types of opportunities to the submerged Negro community while forming a part of the white community which tends to withdraw further and farther away from contacts with Negroes.

Very few of the white advocates in neighborhoods which welcome Negroes and most of them would move if the neighborhoods in which they now reside would start "changing."

Less than a half dozen years ago, many white liberals consorted openly with the civil rights movement but found a way to get off the bandwagon when the proponents of black power became nationally vocal. Nowadays many are returning to the wars not usually because they have started to believe in the equality of all mankind but as a way to stop what is more or less described as the "long hot summers."

Churches which ran to the suburbs to escape the black invasion a few years ago now are trying to save their consciences by doing something for the "inner city" as the slum ghettos of Negroes are usually called these days.

Denominational after denominational has organized committees and commissions to serve as missionaries to the inner city, because the turbulence emanating in the inner city is disturbing the peace and quietude of the suburbs more deeply than are the problems connected with septic tanks, high taxes and hot and cold rumbling mortgages.

These church-organized bodies are beginning their work by studying the Negro in the inner city instead of studying the white man in the suburb. The Negro has been perhaps the most studied of all humans and to date all of the studies have left him where they found him—at the end of the longest line in the world.

If most of these groups were honest they would begin by asking why so many of their churches deserted the inner city and whether the attitudes which caused the move in the first place are still prevalent in their congregations.

They would also try to find out how to know Negroes as individuals instead of as symbols and statistics; they would ask how many of their members who are employers engage in discriminatory hiring practices. They would also ask how many of their members who are in the real estate business are willing to sell any property which they handle to anyone with the ability to pay for it regardless of race or creed. While some of the church leaders might feel that they are going all out as racial liberals simply because they meet at central places with Negroes to view the urban crisis with due alarm and then retire into the safety of the white world, they should be reminded that that fact alone does not free them from the disease of racism which threatens to divide America into two nations based on color.

What the churches seem to forget in their new found project of doing something to stop the long hot summers, is that while they may be doing the right thing they are doing it for the wrong reason.

The very existence of white and Negro churches strikes at the vitals of the Christian religion.

Also engaged in the rush to do something to stop riots in the cities, many city and state governments are at last doing some of the things that should have been going on for generations and many school boards, while thinking that unlike a little pregnancy a little segregation can do little harm, are willing to integrate all schools which lie on the periphery of the ghetto so long as bussing is not employed to effect the integration. To them defacto school segregation is all right.

In short many segments of the white community are seeking ways to contain the black content while holding on to their precious racism which they have inherited from a long dead past. Therein lies the danger of the collapse of America as a potentially democratic society.

Sunday School Lesson

by REV. J. T. HIGHBAUGH, SR.

LARGER LESSON: James 4:13-5:20
LESSON PRINT: James 5:7-16
MOTTO TEXT: James 5:16
Time: A.D. 45 Place: From Jerusalem

This is almost a resume of the quarter. James looks back for strength and forward for hope and has good news to pass on to us.

Suppose we approach our lesson as follows:

1-The Patience of The Saints James 5:7-9

11-The Patience of The Prophets James 5:10-11; Ezekiel 14:12-23

111-A Warning Against Swearing James 5:12

IV-A Call to Prayer James 5:13-16

1-The Patience of The Saints The first of James Record here has to do with the abiding assurance ahead for the Saints. That assurance is that their Lord is coming back again this time in glory and not in an humble manner. Acts 1:10, 11; 1 Cor. 15:51, 52; Phil. 3:20. To the gentle word powers it is an assurance that at His Return the domination of the world by the present Satanic self centered world order will cease and He shall reign ever more. This is something to look forward to by every child of God.

It is as promising and as assuring as the coming of the Christ child was to the prophets and the faithful of Old Testament times for this looking ahead is the growing seed bed of Old Testament prophecy scripture and religion. So we must keep our eyes skyward.

11-The Patience of The Prophets

How necessary is this today "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in Vain" Exodus 20:3 and here is an exhortation to say yes to what you yes and no to what you actually say no to. This means that from day to day you must be making this tip-top decision: "What Really has first value in your life and can always demand the most from you? What really does count in your life? Does a can of beer or a wiggle wag across a dance floor cover life par excellence to you? What is it that is worth death and life to you? And if God is a cheap something to you that you use carelessly then life may be so too.

IV-A Call to prayer

All of us pray to something.

Taking all these reference scriptures and putting them together note what a plan is emerging from God's great Mind. Noah, Job, Daniel wide spread as they were in a Divine Redemption Plan made possible by the Love and grace of God and their Patient Faith and endurance.

Noah 2348 B.C., Job 1520 B.C. and Daniel B.C. 603 all show over thousands of years the end of the Lords purpose to choose and direct a faithful few a remnant irrespective how wicked men get.

This worked out to be true in Jesus day with the faithful as Zachariah, Simeon, Anna, Elizabeth, John the Baptist who prepared a way for the Lord. You have ahead studied about Job. And you shall watch the Return of The Remnant next quarter.

111-A Warning Against Swearing

How necessary is this today "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in Vain" Exodus 20:3 and here is an exhortation to say yes to what you yes and no to what you actually say no to. This means that from day to day you must be making this tip-top decision: "What Really has first value in your life and can always demand the most from you? What really does count in your life? Does a can of beer or a wiggle wag across a dance floor cover life par excellence to you? What is it that is worth death and life to you? And if God is a cheap something to you that you use carelessly then life may be so too.

With facts of our government that seem to be pray to our government now days.

I have learned there is something great to ask believe and rest our cause in God. Elijah did this about the rain He started James started with us who are handicapped (afflicted) (crippled) (tonguetied) (slow of speech) (shy) I shall never forget my graduation year in 1919 when I was sent by the great Antioch Baptist Church, Cincinnati to Mayo Clinic and was told that my right eye was totally gone and my left one would be gone by graduation time May 1919 I almost gave up but I hear Uncle Ab (Rev. Abernathy) the janitor at Simmons as he told me read Hill you cannot read no more boy and ask God to heal like He did Blind Bartimaeus. I did, I left my mail in the Library of the University. I did as the school told me to go in pull down the blinds every afternoon if possible in a dark room and I did what Uncle Ab said too. Also if you sin be open and frank and confess it to God and He will forgive this has to do with the advocacy of Christ whereby because of the mercy of Christ which He carries on for sinning saints God restores them to full fellowship if they ask Him based on the merits of His Sons Sacrifice. Thus we sing;

Just as I am
Without one plea
But that Thy Blood
Was shed for me
And that Thou biddest
Me come to Thee

THE AVENUE

AIRWAVES JUMPIN'!—We hope all you fans dug the diggins Sunday ala Aunt Hager's sons and daughters...or the black brood (no more Negro) is black I'm tellin' you. The black man (Afro-American) how silly can you get with names? Sunday the air waves literally jumped with black programs: Black Experience on Channel 4 with Gordon Alexander as moderator and Atty. Henry J. Richardson as one of the three panel members. Then came George Schuyler on the Manion Forum which was really a drag...with Schuyler boasting about the good treatment received by Negroes in South Africa and Rhodesia. The fella seems to have lost his (you know what) and has joined the establishment. What a pity!

MR. ALEXANDER proved to be a very good moderator, but his panel lacked the know-all (with the exception of Mr. Richardson, who is really tops for this sort of goings-on...But the other young Negro lawyers didn't seem to be able to address themselves readily to the subject at hand. At least this is our opinion (For what it's worth).

THEN came Cross Exam with a Negro on the panel, and Capt. Spallina of the Police Department being interviewed. The black man (I am afraid to say colored man) departed himself well and at times had the captain hanging on the ropes for answers when it came to the treatment of black citizens. But the good captain, who is administrative assistant to the chief, came thru with flying colors.

AND WE do hope and pray you got the message (or historical data) from Dr. James Comer with Prof. Alvin Loving as host on the American Negro, sponsored by the University of Michigan on Channel 13 last Sunday and previous Sundays. Dr. Comer had all the answers at his finger tips and the program rates a triple AAA...and you can take my word for it. The fella (or doc) is brilliant and we don't mean maybe!

THEN CAME MONDAY nite and the 3 1/2 hours of the program "One Nation Indivisible" on Channel 13. We couldn't dig "The Cities" on another station, the same nite—but did dig the program Tuesday nite.

The first two hours were rather pleasing, especially the round table discussion by those individuals who had spoken their piece previously. Now they were all together and did they come on. One poor ofay minister caught holy h---l from certain black and white members of the panel...But me thinks the reverend was misunderstood in some instances. A Negro policeman from Baltimore was rather bitter along with a pharmacist from San Francisco who seemed to blame the 'establishment' because his shelves were half-empty. It was the best part of the long program and it gave everyone an opportunity to get the chip off his or her shoulder. The Catholic priest was very outspoken along with the Italian who said he would take his good col-(there I go using that word) black friend home with him for dinner. It was really a knock-him-down-and-drag-out affair.

THEN CAME the finale...which included our mayor, 4 blacks and 3 or 4 other white panelists. It seems that the blacks were reluctant to speak up and be heard on certain questions. The Mayor had to carry the ball.

Questions sent in included: "Why do influential Negroes leave the ghetto?" and "Can Negroes buy and live in any part of the city?" No Negro member of the panel spoke up...it was finally fielded by a white member of the panel who said he did not sell or manage property...and a Negro member said he didn't understand the word "influential," or something to that effect. On the question of "Do you believe in inter-marriage?"...there was silence for a few seconds, then the Rev. Shields fielded the question, and in an admirable way. We, along with many other people were a little disappointed at the way the black members responded. Maybe, they don't know that blacks can't buy in certain parts. Maybe, they don't know very much about Negroes, or they were afraid to speak out. Negroes know that blacks can't buy in certain parts of the city especially in towns like Speedway City and Beech Grove. Surely they remember the trouble a certain prominent doctor had just trying to buy a house in a certain part of the city. It was in all the papers.

MAYBE the INFLUENTIAL NEGRO has moved away from his brother. They don't seem to know that thousands of Negroes (blacks) are being MOVED out of the inner-city to make room for a university campus. Don't they know that urban renewal is NEGRO REMOVAL? And don't they know that they are trying to lump all Negroes (blacks) together on the east side of town. Why didn't they mention the fact that NO NEW HOUSING has been built in the Indiana Avenue area...where there are plenty vacant lots—especially at north and Senate, Michigan and Senate where the old YMCA was torn down, instead of turning it into a boys club? It had all the conveniences, gym, swimming pool, barber shop, billiard room, dormitory. It's gone now—but surely these people knew about it.

MAYBE the day will come when somebody will have guts enough to tell the 'establishment' that they want more housing downtown on N. West, Indiana Avenue (in the 300 block) FROM THE Masonic hall to the corner of Capitol. If business is to succeed in this area, there MUST be more people. dig. Note: Remember when some one would call you black and the war was on, Smile!

THE SECOND part of "The Cities" on WISH-TV showed what Negroes are trying to do in Bedford-Stuyvesant area of Brooklyn, N.Y. Some of the buildings are in horrible condition as a result of the recent rumblings (not riots). But, believe it or not the boys with full beards, wool top and long whiskers are still asking for a separate community. Can you believe it? (Note: Can you name a Negro nation that has succeeded, including Haiti, Liberia, Ghana or you name it...even Ethiopia, if you please. It also showed the Crenshaw community of Los Angeles with its interracial housing and homes in the $20 to 40 thousand bracket, with about 90,000 people. About 40% black. It's about 7 miles from Watts. We didn't know Los Angeles had a Negro population of 600,000 and New York 1,600,000. The people in Crenshaw seem to be determined to keep the community mixed. Which is a good sign of progress.

ME THINKS it's high time somebody said SOMETHING about the conditions at General Hospital--which is being styled as a hospital for charity and welfare. "And the poor have not been happy with their hospital," wrote Harrison Ullman in his article in Star on General Hospital. Now that alotta folk are receiving Medicaid, it is believed that these persons will desert General in favor of other hospitals. A year or two ago a certain ofay candidate for the Legislature made a statement to the effect that General was a poor man's hospital and offered inferior medical services. It made me warm under the collar--so I called an executive at the hospital and told him what this person said, and asked him was it true. He told me he knew of this person and he had been fighting the hospital for some time, and he was just about right. But, because of the lack of needed funds General just couldn't come up to the standard--or words to that effect.

WE ARE constantly getting squawks on General. Young mothers having to bus their children from the far eastside early in the morning and wait until 2 in the afternoon before receiving medical services. And they say they are being constantly insulted when they demand relief for their children

We don't have space to print all the beefs, but we hope the article will awaken some of our leaders(?) and force them to carry the ball from here. If you dig?

NOTES ON THE CUFF--One of Naptown's most astute business men--S. Henry Bundles, president of the Summit Laboratories, is back in town following a plane trip to Europe on business. It is believed the fella travels more by plane than any other local Negro. Incidentally, Mr. Bundles has been named a faculty associate of the Indiana University Graduate School of Business. Mr. James Cummings of the Board of Fundamental Education and Mike Ranson of the C.J. Walker Mfg. CO. and Dr. Cleo Blackburn of the Flanner House and Board for Fundamental Education are close runners-up in air travel mileage. Naptown has some busy executives...

MEN ON THE GO! BERTRAM GARDNER, formerly of the Senate Ave. YMCA, is back in town from Cleveland for a visit with relatives and friends. Mr. Gardner is executive secretary of the Community Relations Board, Cleveland, O., which puts him squarely in Mayor Stokes' cabinet. Nice going for a hometown boy. (you bet!)

IN THE MAIL--A fine card jumped in from Mr. and Mrs. Sam Thomas (Janice) from Acapulco, Mexico, where they vacationed for 2 weeks at the beautiful Hilton Hotel on the Ocean. Sam, who operates Sam's Package store on Harding said "We are having a good time. This place is a paradise. The Thomases are back in town wearing a beautiful Acapulco tan. Nice scribe came in from Baron Harris in New York...and a fine father's day card from my granddaughter in Chicago. Also a nice scribe from Frank Carter, now living in Los Angeles. Writes Frank, "How's things with you. I thought for a while you had quit writing. I get the paper out here weekly and it seems there is something missing from your column. It's like a letter from home. Was sorry to read about Albin. He was a great guy. Read about Nickson's service station also. He was a close friend of mine. Wish him luck.

Daydreamers tend to be nervous, high-strung, very sensitive and perceptive.

America has camouflaged the black man. For three hundred years the attitudes of white Americans to black and black Americans to white have been subjected to misunderstandings, erasures and distortions damaging to both. The black American's achievements have been misplaced, his contributions obscured. He has been told so often who he is not that he no longer knows who he is. And the frustrations of his search for identity and recognition underlie much of today's crisis of alienation in American society.

In a seven-part series broadcast on Tuesday evenings in the coming weeks, CBS News tries to set the record straight, to help close some of the gaps of understanding that separate black and white America.

In this Tuesday's broadcast, Bill Cosby, actor and comedian, guides us through a history of the attitudes that have distorted the image of the Negro in America. He shows how they were formed and what they have done to us. He shows the Negro's need to know who he is and what happens when he cannot find the answer.

On succeeding Tuesdays, Of Black America will present a study of the Negro soldier, a conference of Negro American and African leaders, a public opinion survey of black and white attitudes, a look at the black American's contributions to sports and music, a history of slavery, and an examination of African life and civilization through the eyes of three young Negro Americans.

Sponsored by Xerox Corporation, with Perry Wolff as Executive Producer, Of Black America presents the Negro in a new light with balance and perspective. If it helps both black and white Americans to understand each other a little better, if it helps to change some of their attitudes toward each other, it will prove to be one of the most rewarding series ever presented on television.

Indianapolis Clowns at Bush Stadium July 12

College All-Stars to furnish opposition

The Indianapolis Clowns, baseball's answer to the Harlem Globe Trotters, will return home Friday, July 12, for a game with the College All-Stars at Bush Stadium. The contest will offer local fans something different in the way of top notch entertainment, as well as the usual baseball circus comedy.

The game, sponsored by local Elks, will begin at 8 p.m. Tickets may be purchased at the door or from any Elks member. Three U.S. Savings Bonds will be given as door prizes.

An added attraction this season, the 39th big one for the Clowns, will be the fancy ball handling of Bobo Nickerson. Bobo can transform one baseball into a half dozen, or vice-versa.

He can, in fact, put so much "stuff" on the ball that even the umpires don't like to argue with him. Nickerson played a number of years with the famous bearded House of David, during which time he perfected his "you got to see it to believe it" bat juggling.

To be this funny and still maintain a semblance of athletic integrity, the Indianapolis Clowns have to be good with a capital "G." A major

THREE ALL-STARS: Curt Flood of the St. Louis Cardinals, Hank Aaron of Atlanta and Willie McCovey of San Francisco (left to right) were among the eight starters announced Monday for the 39th Annual All-Star Game set for July 9 in Houston's Astrodome. The starting pitcher, who is expected to be Juan Marichal of the Giants, was to be announced later.

Indiana All-Stars looking for better night Saturday

The Indiana All-Stars, suffering from their sixth loss in seven games to the Kentucky All-Stars, will be trying to get back on the winning trail Saturday night when they meet the Kentucky team at Butler's Hinkle Fieldhouse.

The Hoosiers are stuck with another humiliating defeat after last Saturday night's 59-54 setback in Louisville's Freedom Hall in the first of the two-game series.

Indiana's top high school players were stuck with their coldest shooting night since they assembled two weeks ago at Indiana Central's gymnasium. They hit only 33 percent from the field, connecting on only 23 of 70 shots and eight of 15 free throws.

Billy Shepherd, who averaged 32 points per game over his last two seasons in high school and Indiana's celebrated "Mr. Basketball," counted only four points for the entire evening. He hit only one of 15 from the field and two of two from the free throw stripe for his four.

The only Hoosier All-Star up to par was Evansville North's 6-foot-7 Bob Ford, who collected 14 points and 16 rebounds for a good night's work. But for his teammates, it was a cold, cold night.

Ramos feels Frazier's fury; gives up after second round

NEW YORK--"I had taken enough punches. I am satisfied it was stopped."

These were the words of Manuel Ramos after he had been TKOed in the second round of his heavyweight fight with Joe Frazier Monday night here. In winning, Frazier, who wants a bout with Cassius (Muhammad Ali) Clay or Jimmy Ellis, successfully defended his championship recognized in five states—New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Maine and Massachusetts.

The first round opened with Ramos, Mexican heavyweight champion, connecting on two straight rights to Frazier's head, staggering the champ briefly.

But Ramos's glory disappeared when Frazier, who weighed 203 1/2 for the bout, began throwing his left hooks into the challenger's chin.

The second was all Frazier's as he continuously pounded the 6-foot-3 Mexican, and near the end of the round, Ramos was knocked into a sitting position and was attempting to get up when the bell sounded the end of Round 2.

Ramos gazed up at Referee Arthur Mercante and waved both hands indicating he had had enough. The knockdown was the first of Ramos' career.

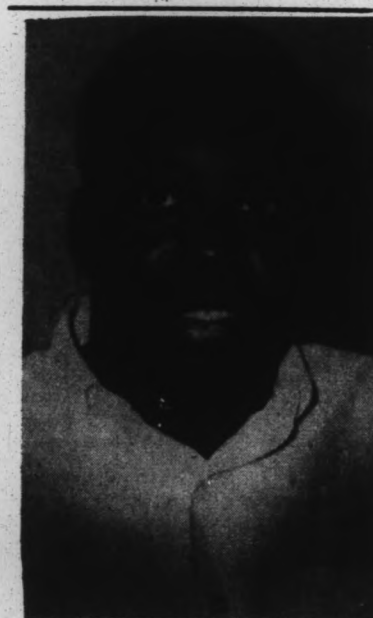

The victory was the 21st for the husky Frazier and his 19th by knockout. Ramos was a 5-1 underdog going into the fight.

Jim Brown to plead innocent to pushing cop

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. -- Football star-turned actor Jimmy Brown says he will plead innocent to a felony charge of battery against a peace officer.

"The police force evidently made a mistake," Brown told newsmen after a hearing was continued until Sept. 20 in order that he can make a movie in Spain. "I did not push an officer."

TURN TO PAGE 20

CAPITOL ADDITION: Len Anderson, a 6-foot-3, 205-pound defensive back, is the latest addition to the Indianapolis Capitols football team. Anderson, who has played six years of pro football, is a graduate of Morris Brown College.

Reggie Harding, ex-Pacer, in trouble again with law

SPECIAL TO THE RECORDER

Reggie Harding, the seven-foot basketball ace who played a portion of last season with the Indiana Pacers of the ABA, is in trouble again with the law. The 26-year-old Harding was in Detroit's General Hospital last weekend suffering from gunshot wounds in both legs. He was listed in good condition.

Harding late last week was a police prisoner at the hospital, being held for investigation of armed robbery.

Authorities said that Harding who has been in trouble with the law since his teenage days, was involved in an argument with another man, identified as Morris Williams, who was being held on charges of assault and attempted murder, and violation of the state narcotic laws.

Williams told authorities he answered his door bell and saw Harding at the door holding a pistol. He said he fired several times through the door, and several times as the young Harding fled in his automobile.

Meanwhile, a 39-year-old woman neighbor was sent to East Side General Hospital, suffering from a wound inflicted by a stray bullet. She was in fair condition.

The total circumstances surrounding the case were not disclosed, neither was an explanation of the robbery investigation given.

Harding has made as many

headlines in escapades with the law as he has on the basketball courts.

He has been rated one of the greatest basketball stars ever to come out of Detroit. He led Eastern High School to three City League and Detroit city championships from 1959 through 1961.

Harding was drafted by the Detroit Pistons out of high school, but the National Basketball Association ruled him ineligible for one year.

He was a member of the Pistons for two years, but was suspended for conduct unbecoming an NBA player.

After being reinstated he played with the Pistons until the early portion of last season when he was traded to the Chicago Bulls. He stayed with the Bulls one month and released.

Harding then signed a contract with the Indiana Pacers and played well until he began missing practices and games which resulted in a suspension before the playoffs.

He was played on waivers at the conclusion of last season.

BY HENRY HEDGEPATH BC
The annual talent and scholarship contest sponsored by Persian Temple 46, Masonic affiliation, was held June 8 in the ISTA Building.

High school seniors, college students and graduates competed for scholarships to colleges of their choice. The majority of the contestants appeared to be of musical talent.

I will not mention the name of the winner in state competition however, the individual will represent Indiana in the national finals to be held during the Shriner's conclave August 17-24 in Milwaukee, Wis.

All out-of-town trips are at the expense of the Shriner's organization. The talent and scholarship contest held in Indianapolis and the state eliminations at Fort Wayne were well attended.

Rev. John Henry Hester of Atlantic City, N.J., Imperial potentate of the Ancient Egyptian Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, was scheduled to deliver a jubilee day sermon for local Prince Hall Shriners. Illness prevented him from doing so Sunday, June 9, at Pilgrim Baptist Church.

The Indiana Grand Chapter O.E.S., P.H.A., annual convention was held June 24-27 at Terre Haute. Meetings were at the Terre Haute House.

The Central District Prince Hall Masonic Lodges, F and AM, held its annual St. John's Day services at Shiloh Baptist Church. The speaker was Dr. L. A. Manuel Sr., pastor of South Calvary Baptist Church. The Central District lodges consist of Central No. 1, Waterford No. 13, Trinity No. 18, Meridian No. 33, Southern Cross No. 39, Fidelity No. 55, and Sumner A. Furness No. 61. Douglas Landers is D.D.G.M. The program was largely attended.

Rev. Mrs. Elizabeth Burnett, minister of Hill Chapel AME Church, has announced plans for the 125th anniversary of the church. The historical affair will be held Sunday, June 30, on the Masonic OES grounds at Marion, Ind.

Don't fail to be present. A "Summer Cotton Frolic" given by Persian Temple, Court 24, Daughters of Isis, will be held July 13, at the IBEW Hall. Southern Cross in July will have a picnic and a lodge of sorrow for the widows of deceased members. The exact date has not yet been set.

ATLANTA, Ga. — Emmanuel L. McCall, the first Negro ever to hold a staff position with a Southern Baptist agency, already has singled out his primary target: "the lack of honest Christian dialogue between the races."

McCall was elected as an associate in the Department of Work with National Baptists of the Southern Baptist Home Mission Board in the May meeting of the agency's board of directors.

Currently serving as pastor of the 28th Street Baptist Church in Louisville, Ky., a congregation affiliated with the Progressive National Baptist Convention, McCall will come to Atlanta July 1.

"Pressure for merger between Negro and white Baptist groups should be minimized now," McCall said, because of fear and suspicion on both sides.

"The approach now is to find ways of cooperating and of working in ways that complement each others' effort."

In the new position, McCall will be planning and promoting cooperative encounters between Southern and National Baptists.

Fellowship between pastors is the starting point, the young pastor said — "Then pulp exchange, congregational exchanges, brotherhood exchanges, and on, can follow."

McCall, who for two years was president of the interracial Louisville Baptist Ministers' Conference, said he was "amazed at the amount of ignorance whites and blacks have about one another."

One of the real surprises that cooperation and people-to-people exchanges can provide, however, is that Negro and white Baptists are not as far apart as some might think, he said.

McCall will have particular responsibility in communicating with Negro youth through religious vocational conferences, scholarship programs and efforts at recruiting Negro students for summer missions.

McCall is a graduate of the University of Louisville and Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, holding the bachelor of divinity, master of religious education and master of divinity degrees.

He is the former associate minister of the Joshua Tabernacle Baptist Church in Louisville and a part-time teacher at Simmons Bible College in Louisville.

Your professional beautician knows the answer...

Can your hair be damaged from brushing, alone?

All hair becomes damaged from exposure to sun and natural elements. Certain greasy compounds and many chemicals, improperly used, also take their toll... not to mention simple attempts at beautifying the hair with any brush not made of natural bristles. The results are brittleness, breakage, dry and dull looking hair.

Your professional beautician knows how artificial bristles actually brush away a great deal of the "lubricants" of the hair that give it body, lustre and protection. And trained beauticians claim that nothing beats Clairol® condition® Beauty Pack Treatment for overcoming brittleness, dryness and breakage... leaving hair lively and easy to manage. condition® is an easy-to-work-with creme which can even be applied during a chemical straightening retouch to prevent drying of hair that has been previously relaxed. condition® is the ultimate in repairing deep-down damage. And, when time is a factor for their customers, hairdressers turn to new Clairol® Hair Dew®—the lotion conditioner that penetrates so fast many think of it as an instant conditioner. When applied regularly by your beautician, Clairol Hair Dew adds body, softens and gives a glowing new look to your hair that many friends will notice and admire.

Damage can come from using brushes with artificial bristles. But damage to every woman's hair comes from so many other causes that all human hair (including wigs) needs to be revitalized periodically. Visit your professional beautician and ask this expert to check the condition of your hair.

Only your professional beautician knows the answer for sure.

league scout who makes one successful "raid" on the Clowns' camp has earned his keep for the year. Hank Aaron, John Wyatt, Paul Casanova and Hal King are just a few ex-Clowns who have made it big in the big leagues.

Also featured with the Clowns is another local favorite—Birmingham Sam, a long, tall shortstop who will stop at nothing short of suicide to get a laugh.

Sam had it made with a soft shoe shuffle routine back in his native Birmingham, but he loused the show up real bad one day when he wore his baseball cleats to work by mistake.

Figuring that even wearing ballet slippers in a ball park couldn't cause that much confusion, Sam abandoned the theatre in favor of the diamond without ever considering the possibility of getting out of show business.

One of the top attractions of the Clowns the past several years has been midget Dero Austin, who stands 31 inches tall (if you can call it tall).

As a player, Austin naturally doesn't have to pay to get in at any ball park where the Clowns are billed. But Dero can't resist the temptation to dress in kids clothes and try his hand at getting through the turnstiles at half-price. To him, it's worth 50 percent of the standard admission price to put one over on the ticket-takers.

So, if you see an "old looking kid" at the gate, it very well may be Austin.

Ticket prices for the July 12 fun circus are $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children under 12. They may be purchased at the Bush Stadium box office the day of the game or at the gate that night.

field goal shooting were as follows: Oscar Evans, three points (1-4), John Van Kurin, 6 (3-4), John Hoover 2 (1-1), Tom Arnholt 5 (2-5), and Don Buse 2 (1-3). Rick Ford failed to score.

While Indiana was committing only 16 errors (compared to Kentucky's 29), the Kentuckians fired .390 from the field on 25 of 64 from the field, and hit nine of 16 "ree throw attempts.

One thing the Hoosiers will be looking for in practice this week is rebounding—they were handled by the Kentuckians 60-40.

Kentucky's 6-foot-5 Ron Thomas stole the show, hitting 10 of 16 shots for 20 points while pulling down 14 rebounds. Granville Bunton, who stands 6-6, also hauled in 14 rebounds but counted only two points.

Guard Henry Bacon fired 17 times, connected on six for 12 points; and Stan Key, another guard, had 10 points on four of seven from the field and two of two from the 15-foot mark.

Despite the loss, the Hoosiers still own a comfortable margin in the series.

Game time for Saturday night's tilt will be at 8:15 p.m.

Jim Brown

Because he is leaving the country, his bail was increased in municipal court from $1250 to $10,000.

Authorities said Brown pushed a sheriff's deputy called to investigate a report of a disturbance in Brown's apartment June 9.

Brown was arrested on a charge of assault with intent to murder after a 22-year-old model was found injured beneath his balcony, but she refused to sign a complaint and the charge against Brown was dropped.

The model, Eva Marie de Bahn Chin, later told authorities she fell from the balcony. She remains in good condition with a shoulder injury.
